

I have XM radio in two cars and plan on adding one more in the next month. I love XM radio, the choice, the commercial free music, the comedy, talk and weather channels are excellent. I travel a lot and the traffic and weather is invaluable all at the push of one button I always know where to find what I need when I need it. How can the FCC prohibit or regulate a service that I pay for? This is a freedom of choice and a freedom of speech. I am sure in the world that we live in today there are much more important issues at hand than trying to impair a service that has freely been chosen by the people who are XM subscribers.

Please reject the NAB's petition 04-160 and support the First Amendment.

Sincerely,

Tina Parkhurst
